BIOGRAPHY OF RICE, MICHELS & WALTHER, LLP

Rice, Michels & Walther, LLP ("RMW") is a Minneapolis law firm that specializes in public sector law. The firm was established in 2000 by five partners who left the law firm of Best & Flanagan. RMW represents a number of public employee pension plans and public sector labor unions on general corporate, litigation and legislative matters.

RMW acts as General Counsel for the Minneapolis Police Relief Association and the Minneapolis Firefighters' Relief Association, the two oldest public pension plans in Minnesota. The firm also acts as Special Counsel for the St. Paul Teachers' Retirement Fund Association and represents over a dozen volunteer firefighter relief associations. The firm has also acted as Special Counsel to the Minnesota State colleges and Universities Defined Contribution Plan.

RMW represents the St. Paul Teachers' Retirement Fund Association in the United Health litigation matter and serves as one of five member firms on the joint plaintiffs' committee. In its role as counsel to pension funds, members of the firm have been involved with working with pension funds in both derivative litigation and in matters related to special litigation committees. Members of the firm were involved in drafting current Minnesota laws in fiduciary liability and responsibility for public sector pension funds, Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 356A. The firm also has a strong perspective on the rights and roles of directors of non-profit corporations and pension funds in the exercise and execution of their fiduciary duties in the handling of complex litigation.
